OFFICE 318 SOUTH MAIN STREET.

—TUESDAY, OCT. 12, 1897.—

October 14 will be Masonic Day at the Centennial.

The Henderson county fair will begin to-morrow and continue throughout the week.

The rain Bryan brought with him fell upon all alike. It was a blessing to the whole State.

Keep your ear to the ground about November 2. There will be some news from Christian county.

Henry Williams, the young Bowling Green newspaper man, publishes an open letter in the Times denouncing Thos. W. Osley as a liar.

Judge H. G. Petrie, of Elkton, has finally decided to accept the Republican nomination for Circuit Judge against Hon. J. B. Goodnight.

Seth Low's reform administration in Brooklyn has been given a backset by the discovery of a shortage in the treasury department of $5,000,000.

Gov. H. S. Pingree, of Michigan, who mysteriously disappeared two months ago, has returned home. He went to Venezuela.

Dollar wheat is still having a hard struggle to keep above 50 cents, while silver has recovered another cent or two of the ground lost last summer.

The Owensboro Inquirer is again calling upon Jake Rowe to resign the Democratic nomination for Commonwealth's Attorney in the Owensboro district.

Hindman will get about 200 votes in Christian county. Of these 50 will come from Palmer, 150 from McKinley and 0 from Bryan. Probably 100 votes cast for McKinley will this year go to Shackelford.

The total registration in Louisville shows Democrats 24,288, Republicans 17,700, non-committals 4,400. Democrats are jubilant over the prospects for a sweeping victory in the city election.

The Bowling Green Democrat declares that Ben Perkins "will not decline to be a candidate" if the boys in the Third district want him to run for Governor. If he does run, somebody's figures will have to be very materially changed.

At last Fletcher Weyler has been recalled from Cuba. He has not stopped to rebellion, for the patriot cause is stronger than ever, but he has feathered his own nest and shed much innocent blood.

The Henderson Journal is to be sold to satisfy a debt of Starling L. Marshall against J. L. Priest, who purchased Mr. Marshall's interest three or four years ago. The publication of the paper will not be interfered with.

The rescue of Miss Evangeline Cusio from a Cuban prison was accomplished last week by the agents of the New York Journal. They saved the iron bars of her window and she deeded by a rope. She is now en route to the United States.

The Owensboro Messenger pays its respects to Clarence Wells, city attorney of Owensboro by virtue of Democratic votes, for going over to the goldbugs and accepting a place on the Republican ticket. There are others of this class in Kentucky, but they are too dead to waste time upon or shed ink over.

The worst case of criminal assault yet reported is from Newport, Ky. Mrs. Thos. Gleason, a young woman of 17, a bride of a few weeks, was forcibly dragged from her husband as they were walking on the pike near Alexandria, by a crowd of drunken toughs and eleven of them violated her person. The men have all been arrested and transferred to Mayville to escape lynching. Three or four of them have confessed and a wholesale hanging is liable to be the outcome.

The following summary from the Times shows the wholesale manner in which dissatisfied Democrats are returning to the party in Louisville: "With a Republican plurality on the face of the registration last year, Mayor Todd ran some 8,000 behind the McKinley head of his ticket, and won his election by only a few lengths. This year the complete registration will show a Democratic plurality of not less than 7,000, with no sound money Democrats voting, and many of those registered as Republicans opposing both Todd and his ticket. Just set down the name of his discredited Honor as either Dem or Rep, and let it go at that."

According to these figures Shackelford will wipe out the Republican majority of 12,600 in Louisville last year and have not less than 20,000 majority in the State.

Judge Cook concluded his speaking appointments in this county Saturday and left for Murray, going overland from Lafayette. The canvass in this county is so favorable to Cook that Judge Breathitt's closest friends entertain no hopes of his election. A conservative estimate gives the following majorities in the four counties: For Cook, Calloway 1800, Lyon 150, Trigg 250, total 2,200. For Breathitt, Christian 800 leaving Cook's majority in the district 1,400. If Calloway does as well as she did last year, the majority will be nearly 2,000 in that county. Cook's majority in the district will not be far from 1,500.

Last week's registration figures were very favorable to the Democrats in nearly all of the cities. A majority of 1,600 is shown in Lexington, and Frankfort, Winchester, Shelbyville and Bowling Green all show heavy gains. The latter city went Republican last year by 50 but now has a registered Democratic majority of 852. The Republicans lost 75 votes in Nicholasville, Mt. Sterling, Paducah and Owensboro all make good showings. This is going to be a Democratic year.

Messrs. Latham, Alexander & Co. of New York, have issued their 24th annual edition of "Cotton Movement and Fluctuations," a book we have received for several years through the courtesy of Mr. John C. Latham. The edition this year is the handsomest yet issued, and contains a number of illustrations, and sketches of prominent brokers. The reports are especially valuable and exhaustive and arranged with great care.

The New York World, goldbug organ, is supporting Henry George, the free silver and anti-Tammany Democratic candidate for Mayor of New York. Van Wyck, the Tammany candidate, is the regular Democratic nominee. Seth Low and B. F. Tracy are the two Republicans. The situation is much complicated and the result cannot be foretold at the opening of the campaign.

The young Cuban patriot, Senorita Evangelina Cisneros y Cosio, the heroine of sensational adventure with the Spanish governor of Isle of Pines, has escaped from the house of detention, where she has been confined for several months on a charge of conspiring against the crown of Spain and an attempt upon the life of the governor. According to the statement the iron bars of her room were broken with outside assistance.

Eon. Theodore Roosevelt contributes to the paper for the October Century on "The Roll of Honor of the New York Police," his article being one of the series in this magazine on "Heroes of Peace." Mr. Roosevelt incidentally describes his efforts and those of his associates to reform the police force in New York, and he tells of the workings of their plan to reward beyond by promotion wherever possible. A paper by Miss Anna L. Bicknell, who wrote "Life in the Tulleries Under the Second Empire," is based upon her own experience in the place, treats of "Marie Antoinette as Daphne," and has many illustrations. Miss Bicknell presents much new material, drawn from the State Papers in Vienna.

MAMMOTH CLOTHING & SHOE CO.

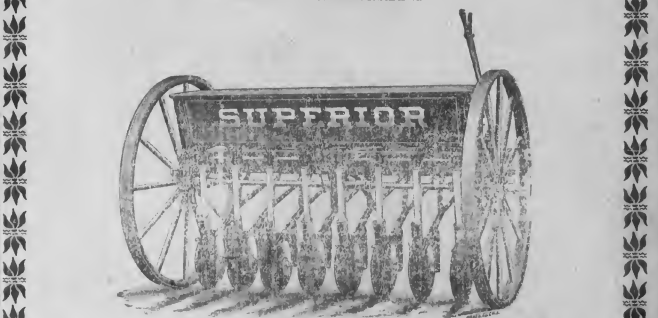

DOLLAR WHEAT

DEMANDS CAREFUL SEEDING AND A LARGER ACREAGE.

The great success of fertilizing wheat this last season will result in a larger use of Fertilizers and Fertilizer Drills [this fall]. The advance in wheat has stiffened fertilizer prices, and they are higher at the factory, but we will sell at the old price until our purchase contract is exhausted. After that we will be compelled to charge more. We sell only the Best,

ARMOUR, HORSE-SHOE and HOMESTEAD.

Nothing is more worthless than inferior fertilizer. Only the best is worth buying.

We handle two makes of Drills—EMPIRE & SUPERIOR.

We can furnish you a drill with Disc, Hoe or Shoe, with or without fertilizer attachment. These drills need no comments; you all know them.

This is the Deering Corn Harvester. Two horses pull it, one man operates it, and cuts from 6 to 8 acres daily.

On exhibition at our store. Will take pleasure in showing it.

FORBES & BRO.

Free Treatment.

Dr. Hartman's free treatment brings many letters from thankful patients. The following are specimens:

I have followed your advice and feel much benefited by it. I have continued the use of Pe-ru-na all winter and have not had a cold yet, which is so rare, as my lungs are constitutionally weak and very liable to cold.

I am satisfied your medicine and kind free advice have done more for my present health than anything else could have done. La grippe and pneumonia have been epidemic all month throughout the State, and I feel that I owe to your medicine my escape from those maladies. I thank you sincerely from the bottom of my heart for all the good you have done me. I am feeling so well and free from all suffering that my heart goes out in thankfulness to you, as an instrument in God's hands, of what I am to day.

Mrs. M. H. ROBBINS,
Montrose, Ala.

I will write and tell you what Pe-ru-na has done for me. I have been suffering for a long time, and in the night I would have to get out of bed because I could not breathe. It all disappeared after I had taken Pe-ru-na. I also had an abscess on my back that felt as if needles were sticking into my back, and after I had taken Pe-ru-na the abscess disappeared. I can walk a great deal easier than I could. My husband has also taken Pe-ru-na, and we both recommend it as a good medicine.

Mrs. ISABELLA GOOLBAY,
Lafayette, La.

Those wishing a complete description of female diseases, their causes and cures, should send their address to The Pe-ru-na Drug Manufacturing Co., Columbus, Ohio, for a copy of "Health and Beauty." Sent free to women only. This valuable medical treatise should be in the possession of every woman who has any interest in these diseases.

ELOQUENT BOB TAYLOR.

One of His Efforts At the Irish Day Celebration.

"If I were a sculptor, I would chisel from the marble my ideal of a hero. I would make it the figure of an Irishman, sacrificing his hopes and his life on the altar of his country, and I would carve on its pedestal the name of Emmet."

"If I were a painter, I would make the canvas eloquent with the deeds of the bravest people who ever lived, whose proud spirit no power can conquer, and whose loyalty and devotion to the hope of free government no tyrant can ever crush. And I would write under the picture, 'Ireland'."

"If I were a poet, I would melt the world to tears with the pathos of my song. I would touch the heart of humanity with the mournful threnody of Ireland's wrongs and Erin's woes. I would weave the slumber and the rose into garlands of glory for the Emerald Isle, the land of martyrs and memories, the cradle of heroes, the nursery of liberty."

"Tortured in dungeons and murdered on scaffold, robbed of the fruits of their sweat and toil, scourged by famine and plundered by the avarice of heartless power, driven like the leaves of autumn before the keen winter winds, this sturdy race of Erin's sons and daughters have been scattered over the face of the earth, homeless only in the land of their nativity, but princes and lords in every other land where merit is the measure of the man."

"Here is the battlefield that has not been glorified by Irish courage and baptized with Irish blood? And where is the free country whose countenances have not been strengthened by Irish brains, and whose wealth has not been increased by Irish brawn?"

"Wherever the flag of war flutters, the spirit of Irish chivalry is there, panting for the battle and eager for the charge. Whether it be leading to lead the allied armies at Waterloo, or Ney following the eagles of France; whether it be Sam Houston crushing the Mexican hordes at San Jacinto, or Davy Crockett courting death at the Alamo; whether it be Andrew Jackson at New Orleans, or Stonewall Jackson at Chancellorsville; whether it be Phil Sheridan in the saddle riding like a god of war in the thickest of the fight, or Pat Garrett with a silver rope and dying at the executioner's mouth on the breastworks of the foe, it is the same intrepid, unconquerable spirit of sublime courage which flows like a stream of inspiration from the heart of Ireland to fire the souls of the world's greatest leaders, and to burn forever on the altar of liberty."

"Wherever the banner of peace is unfurled over the progressive English speaking nations of the earth, this same intrepid Celtic blood has ever been present, shaping the destinies of empires and republics."

"It warmed the heart of Edmund Burke when his brain was a mighty loom which wove tapestries of glory for England and for mankind. It inspired the souls of Swift and Sheridan, whose dreams will linger in English literature forever, like the fragrance of roses that are faded and gone. It lighted up the brain of Oliver Goldsmith, who broke out in song sweeter than the song of the nightingale. It kindled the soul of Byron, who sang of the angel of light from the realms of dreams, he swept the burning strings of Erin's harp, and lo! the whole world thrilled to the melody. The body of Tom Moore was dust long ago, but his spirit lives in songs, and breathes more hope in every Irish heart and happiness in every Irish home."

"If I were asked why our Southern people are so impulsive, I would answer it is not so much the effect of climate, as it is the predominance of Irish blood in our veins. It was this that fired the Irish heart of Patrick Henry to preach secession from England's wrath and the power of English arms."

"It was this that moved our Irish-American President, James K. Polk, to buy Mexico with its melody. It was this that woke the lion in the Irish bosom of John C. Calhoun, and impelled him to defend the doctrine of State's rights under the Constitution, and it was this which finally put the North on the pension list, and South on the crutches."

"An Irishman was once shipwrecked at sea, and floated on a broken spar to the shore of a strange island. He dragged himself, half dead, from the water, and found on the shore the natives. 'And have you a government here?' he asked. 'Yes, sir,' replied the native. 'Well, then, because I'm again the Irish impulse is the achievement of liberty, and next the determination to accomplish, at all hazards, whatever he undertakes to do.'"

"An Irishman once came from Cork to America and hired himself to a farmer. The farmer gave him a box of axle grease and ordered him to go and grease the wagon. In about three hours Pat returned, weary and dripping with sweat. 'Where have you been?' asked the farmer. 'I have been greasing the wagon, your honor.' 'And did you get it greased?' asked the farmer. 'Yes, sir; I got it greased all over except the things the wheels run on. I couldn't get to them.'"

"Ladies and gentlemen, my Irish impulse is about to plunge me into a digression. I am about to utter a glorious occasion all over except the things the wheels run on. The delightful task assigned to me is, to give welcome to the children of the Commonwealth of Tennessee to this splendid gathering of Irish-Americans. I am especially pleased to perform this task, because Irish blood runs in my veins. My great-grandmother was an Irish woman, and spoke the Irish brogue; her pigs grunted Irish, and her turkey gobblers strutted like Irish politicians and gobbled in the Irish tongue, and she had an old 'nigger,' and he was an Irish, too."

I am proud of the opportunity to give you a really good welcome because I am proud of my Irish blood, but I am prouder still that we are all American citizens. For under the ample folds of our flag, the accident of birth is neither the passport of one to a bar to the highest positions of trust and honor. 'Lucien began life as a rail splitter, but he was a humble fellow. David Johnson as an apprentice to a tailor and Garfield as a mule-driver on a low path in Ohio. But these were the children of poverty all rose to the presidency of the republic. I have heard it said that such men as these were self-made, but it is not true. God almighty made them and gave them their glorious opportunities in this land of Democracy and liberty. There is only one self-made man in this Union of whom I have knowledge, and that is the late Mr. Mary Walker—and she is Irish too."

"I trust my Irish-American friends will pardon me for leaving out of this short address a long list of Irish patriots, whose noble deeds have illuminated all the pages of American history. It is enough to say that Charles B. Hanford, Richard III was the first star part in which Mr. Keene appeared, some fifteen years ago. He was engaged at once to public view, which has grown from time to time, until it is acknowledged that he has no rivals in the part. Keene's Glover is unlike any other that can be remembered, and not only the realistic croak-backed tyrant of the author, but study and research have made it a picture which stands alone."

Was a Great Success.

To say that Mrs. Ada Lay's Fall opening of millinery Thursday and Friday at The Palace was a great success is really putting it into perspective as the occasion proved highly satisfactory in all respects, and on both days her house was crowded with ladies, all anxious to see the handsome display. Her window decorations were beautiful and the entire stock was so arranged as to almost dazzle the eyes with its splendor. Mrs. Lay's house largely this season and displayed that taste and care which has always made her goods so popular in making her selections.

Dr. John Young Brown, of St. Louis, was elected President of the Mississippi Valley Medical Association.

without our Irish names, the sky of our national glory would lose half its stars. And yet, how can I give you a complete welcome without giving utterance to the same breath to the names of Grady and Father Hyatt. Grady, the impassioned Southern orator, whose eloquence claimed the spirit of sectional hate, and would lead the nation into the embrace of fraternal love and peace. Grady, who, like the morning star, blazed for a moment on the horizon and was then lost forever from mortal eyes, in the light of God's eternal day. "Father Ryan, our own Irish hero and poet priest, whose mournful melodies of despairing love for the cause that was lost and the flag that was furled forever, still melts the hearts of the old grizzly veterans of the South to the tenderness of childhood. Father Ryan, the Town Doctor of Dixie, whose spirit shall keep watch over the folded stars and bars until the morning of the resurrection. "Ladies and gentlemen, again I give you welcome, thrice welcome."

NOT FOR EVERYTHING

But if you have kidney, liver or bladder trouble you will find Swamp Root just the remedy you need. People are not apt to get anxious about their health soon enough. If you are not "quite well" or "half well" have you ever thought that your kidneys may be the cause of your sickness?

It is easy to tell by setting aside your urine for twenty-four hours; a sediment or settling indicates a healthy condition of the kidneys. When urine stains linen it is evidence of kidney trouble. Too frequent desire to urinate, scanty supply, pain or dull ache in the back is also convincing proof that the kidneys and bladder need doctoring.

There is satisfaction in knowing that the great remedy Dr. Kilmer's Swamp Root, fulfills every wish in relieving weak or diseased kidneys and all forms of bladder and urinary troubles. Not only does Swamp Root give new life and activity to the kidneys—the cause of trouble, but by treating the kidneys it acts as a tonic for the entire constitution. If you need a medicine you should have the best. Sold by druggists, price fifty cents and one dollar, or by mentioning the Hopkinsville Kentuckian and sending your address to Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y., you may have a sample bottle of this great discovery sent to you free by mail.

Keene as Richard III.

Shakespeare's historic tragedy—Richard III, has found public favor since the days of Elizabeth. It was always a favorite with the Tudor Queen, for it flattered the vanity of her family, and it is without exception, closer to history than any play from the great author's pen. It is announced for presentation at the Opera House to-night.

Mr. Keene is accompanied by Charles B. Hanford, Richard III was the first star part in which Mr. Keene appeared, some fifteen years ago. He was engaged at once to public view, which has grown from time to time, until it is acknowledged that he has no rivals in the part. Keene's Glover is unlike any other that can be remembered, and not only the realistic croak-backed tyrant of the author, but study and research have made it a picture which stands alone."
